How to Make Your Business Plan Stand Out

What makes your business unique? Determining this could help you stand out from the crowd and give you advantages over your competitors. Why do I need a business plan? What is the return on investment? What will be the company's marketing strategy? What are the owners' background and experience? What will the borrowed capital be used for? Lenders and investors need the specifics of the business they are investing in. In addition even if you have funding a business plan is a great tool which serves as a Road Map for your business.

Step I

What information do I need to fill out the questionnaire? The questions on the Questionnaire are straight forward, Example: "Who will be the C.E.O. of your Company? ", "Where will your company be based", "What will your Company sell", "What makes your company unique", "What services will your company provide", etc. We make it easy as our Consultant will guide you through the process. It would take about 35-45 minutes.

What if there is something I need to add after the plan is completed? If there is something that you forgot to add after you review the plan then we will add it at no cost. You are allowed one set of revisions at no additional cost to you.

Step II

How do I get my company incorporated? There are a number of user friendly websites to help get your company off the ground, such as www.incorporate.com, www.incfiling.com, and www.llegalzoom.com. It is always a good idea though to seek the legal advice of an attorney. At Figeroux & Associates we offer opinions and legal advice on corporate structure and incorporations. Network with NACC

There is no business idea under the sun that is unique. The people who are successful in business are the ones who execute their business idea (plan). Networking without a business plan is not smart. For most business people and professionals, effective networking should be a driving force, if not the central component of their marketing efforts. It's not what you know but who you know that gets you in the door. Over time effective networking can generate a steady stream of referrals and help your business grow. Your networking strategy can largely replace cold calling, advertising and other less productive marketing efforts.
